

Anne E. Nokes has carved out a unique position in the community as a public servant dedicated to help our most vulnerable people – children and youth. She has been the backbone of many well-known organizations, such as All Faiths Receiving Home. Her work at All Faiths spans all facets of the operation, from reading, entertaining and even changing diapers when she needed to. There wasn't anything she wouldn't do to help out the agency.

Her leadership role has included terms on the Board of Directors, where she has been Board President three times. As a fundraiser, Anne makes countless presentations for United Way and others as an advocate for All Faiths. The organization has awarded Anne with the Life Time Achievement Award for her tireless work for the organization.

Anne hasn't stopped at All Faiths when it comes to helping children. She also has represented Peanut Butter & Jelly Therapeutic Pre-School, Cuidando Los Ninos, Alta Mira, Children's Trust Fund of New Mexico, Citizen Review Board for Abused and Neglected Children and the New Mexico Committee for the Prevention of Child Abuse, among others.

Because of her drive to be whole heartedly involved in the organizations she serves, Anne has been elected president to many of those agencies and others. New Futures High School provides not only schooling, but support, counseling, case management and social services for pregnant and parenting teens. While devoting much of her public service to children and teens, Anne also is active with United Way of Central New Mexico and in the League of Women Voters as well as the New Mexico Zoological Society.
